Could We Can Make help you?

- Do you or someone in your family need a new home?
- Can't find anything suitable or you can't afford it?

Powered by the skills and resources of the community, We Can Make offers:

- A range of affordable options: homes delivered where and when people need them.
- An opt-in approach: open to both council tenants and people who own their own homes.
- Local skills and jobs: homes made in Knowle West using local materials and working with local tradespeople.
- High standards: homes built to the same standards as traditional brick houses, with strong environmental credentials to keep energy bills low.

We Can Make is a collaboration between Knowle West Media Centre, architects practice White Design and the local community. It aims to support communities to build the homes they need using local skills.
